WINDOW GARDENING.

Of late years there has been in our town of Qu'Appelle, a growing taste for the beauties of Nature in the form of window gardening, in the cultivation of flowers, and it is a taste which cannot become too popular; other fashions are mostly artificial and fleeting, but a love of flowers seems implanted in every female breast since the time when Eve decked her bower with the exquisite blossoms that grew spontaneously in the Garden of Paradise as a fitting welcome for her heaven-sent guest. But, indeed, that which has been sung by Milton and praised by Shakespeare needs no further eulogium; to write in praise of an art which is coeval with the progenitors of our race, and which has been more or less successfully cultivated since the beginning of the world, were, indeed, to try and paint the lily; suffice it then to say that gardening may be pursued with pleasure and profit at all seasons by persons of both sexes and all ages; it is as often the delight of the young as the solace of the old, and is truly a pastime and a pleasure, "not for an age, but for all time."

When we reach middle age, and many of the interests of the world begin to pall upon our senses, we feel inclined to exclaim with the preacher, "Vanity, vanity, all is vanity!" then we turn to the garden with redoubled pleasure, and our plants, our flowers, are even a source of gratification. For whatever disappointments, whatever slights and rubs we may get in the world, we only become the more assured "that Nature never did deceive the heart that loved her," and the older we get the more endeared to us become the pure pleasures to be derived from researches into those vast fields of knowledge and interest which ever lie open to us in the study of Nature. We are, I believe, indebted to Mr. Jagger for first introducing and drawing attention to window gardening here; he it was who, some years back, first set the horticultural ball rolling, and now it is the exception where plants are not to be seen rendering bright and cheerful the windows of our town homes.

Prof. Huxley Dead

Demise of the Famous English Agnostic—His End was Peaceful and Quiet.

One of a Celebrated Group, of Which Only two Survive.

LONDON, June 29.—Prof. Thomas Huxley died at 3:45. The end of Prof. Huxley was very peaceful and quiet, being perfectly in keeping with the retirement which he sought when he took up his residence near Eastbourne. Failing health became noticeable about March 1; bronchitis followed an attack of influenza. The lungs and kidneys were then affected. He rallied several times, but two weeks ago sustained a severe relapse and since that time there has been no hope for permanent improvement. His wife and daughter were present at his death-bed, but his son arrived too late. During his dying moments Professor Huxley displayed great fortitude and resignation.

Correspondence.

Our columns are open to all for the discussion of public questions. Personalities will not be permitted. We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by correspondents.

To the Editor of The Progress:

DEAR SIR,—Having noticed an article in your last issue by your old time correspondent, I wish to ask him if I was incorrect in my statement regarding the recent rains? If so, O.T.C. must be where he ought not to be. He quite frankly admits (to our surprise) that the chair class ended up in a rain, but, we regret to say, it was a shower of hot tears. We believe your O.T.C. to be somewhat of a humorist, and therefore do not regard him as a serious practitioner. While heartily thanking him for his well meant advice, we would, in all friendliness and sincerity, heartily advise him to do not in the future, as he has done in the past, anything that he might well be ashamed of.

Butter Making.

We have been requested to publish the following letter, as it will no doubt be of interest to not a few of our readers:

Ottawa, June 18th, 1895.

Mrs. James Galloway Milne, Qu'Appelle Station, N.W.T.

MADAM—I have your letter of the 11th inst. I do not see any reason why a private person can make more butter from a certain quantity of cream than can be made in a creamery. I have not found it to be a fact that such can be done. In creamery work you usually obtain from 111 to 117 lbs. of butter fat in the milk.

2. The length of time required to churn butter from cream depends upon the condition of the cream as to its ripeness and temperature. It does not make any difference whether the churn is turned by a belt or turned by hand.

3. If we begin to water the milk, it is unnecessary to change the water in the setting tank, except to keep it pure and sweet. Sometimes it may become foul from the spilling of small quantities of milk or cream into it.

4. Water should be added to the cream or butter when the granules of butter are about as large as clover seed.

The quantity of cold water or brine need not exceed two or three per cent. of the quantity of cream which is being churned. Buttermilk need not contain more than from one-quarter to one-half of one per cent. of butter fat. If it contains as much as two per cent. of butter fat, then there is a great waste in the buttermilk. That might arise from the cream not being properly ripened, or from one of several other causes.

I send you a copy of our bulletin on "Butter making." Another one is now being printed, of which I will send you a copy as soon as it is issued. I am, yours very truly, JAS. W. ROBERTSON, Dairy Commissioner.

—This is a practical age. We are getting down to the fact that we have but one time to enjoy our lives and that we will be along time dead. Get health and happiness and save time by riding a bicycle. Winnipeg Saturday Night are going to give four to the ladies or gentlemen residing in the largest lot of new bicycles for that price. These are the celebrated Monarch and the best made. It is the biggest thing in the way of newspaper premiums ever offered in the west. Some of our enterprising young people should bring one of these wheels to town. Saturday Night is the best printed, illustrated and colored paper for the money sold. See advertisement and then write them quick for sample copies and full instructions.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

"There's a chief among ye takin' notes, An' faith he'll print 'em."

Mrs. E. J. Paine, by the advice of her medical attendant, will go to Banff one day this week. Mrs. Paine has passed through a long, suffering illness, and I am sure Mr. Paine has the sympathy of a great number of friends and well-wishers, who sincerely hope the change may effect a speedy recovery, and that his young wife may return to her home permanently benefited from her sojourn at the well known health-giving locality of Banff.

From the appearance of some of the gardens around town, the damage from the hail storm of last Saturday week might never have been done, for garden "stuff" is looking splendid. Mr. H. Mitchell tells me that many of his things, notably onions, lettuce and cabbage, have been growing during the past week at the rate of an inch a day, or rather per twenty-four hours, for it is a well authenticated fact that plants grow more during the night than the day. Lettuce measuring a foot and more across at the end of June may well be considered a triumph in the gardener's art; many such lettuce are to be seen in the garden in question. I may add that this luxurious crop is the result of fall sowing, another proof that fall sowing for certain crops is advantageous.

Yes, the ardent young sportsman thought he would purchase a gun, so he cast about for the desired article and soon succeeded in finding the very thing that he thought would suit him. The trusty "killdeer" that he had secured was not one of the common modern breech-loading type, but an extraordinary one of a somewhat ancient order, and, like sound, convincing argument, carried considerable weight with it. By some mishap the deadly weapon did not remain intact long in its new owner's possession, and it is not known, except to the youth's inner consciousness, how the antediluvian piece of mechanism was shattered, but such was fortunately, or unfortunately, the case; this being so, the ere while jubilant, but now crestfallen youth, proceeded to examine the different parts of the now useless instrument of modern warfare. On each piece was stamped certain trade mark figures and letters; at length the youth's eyes fell upon one bearing the following, 56 B.C. This was too much for him, he instantly cast the offending piece from him, exclaiming, "he would have nothing to do with anything so old as 56 B.C. What delightful innocence!"

A correspondent asks why those flowers so familiar to everybody are called pansies. I believe the name comes from pensive a moi (think of me). Shakespeare, in Hamlet, makes Ophelia say, "Trey you love, remember. There's a pansy, that's for thoughts." Again, another poet, whose name I do not remember at the moment, writes: "Are not pansies emblems meet for thought? The pure, the chequered, gay and deep by turns, A line for every mood the bright things wear, In their soft velvet coats."

Church Dedication.

The new Church of England at Indian Head, built and presented free of all debt by Lord and Lady Brassey, was solemnly dedicated to the honor and glory of God and in memory of St. John the Divine, on Thursday last, by the Lord Bishop of Qu'Appelle.

The church is of lumber on high stone foundation, the latter giving space underneath the building for heating apparatus and other uses. The interior of the church consists of nave, chancel and apse sanctuary. There is also a roomy vestry and organ chamber.

A large, overflowing congregation assembled at 3 o'clock, the hour of service, which consisted of litany, special prayers, invocations and benedictions. An eloquent and earnest sermon was preached by the Lord Bishop, who exhorted the people to gratefulness and thanksgiving for the gift, and recommended the beneficent donors to their prayers.

Besides the Rev. G. N. Dowie, now in charge of Indian Head and districts, there were present Rev. J. P. Sargeant, of Qu'Appelle Station, who acted as bishop's chaplain, Rev. W. E. Brown, of Regina, and Rev. W. F. Johnson, of Fort Qu'Appelle.

Dominion Day.

A Gala Day at Indian Head—Qu'Appelle Prominent in the Events.

Nothing to Mar the Day's Enjoyment—Our Fort Correspondent Asleep.

Monday last was fine, with a strong south wind blowing, and from an early hour all sorts and sizes of vehicles could be observed, in a constant stream bearing their living freight, Indian Head being the object point. At 1 o'clock there must have been between 1,200 and 1,500 people on the ground. The greatest order prevailed; we did not hear of a dispute of any kind. The football cup was won by the Grenfell team, we cannot help thinking by a fluke. Stintala had their revenge on Indian Head, beating them at baseball. The horse races were well contested, likewise the athletic sports. We must not forget to congratulate the Grenfell band on their playing, one thing being very noticeable, the absence of extreme forte playing, which too many consider the acme of playing. Bandmaster Chisholm is certainly to be congratulated. The following is a list of the principal events and the contestants therein:

HORSE RACES.
250 trot or pace—1, Dan J.; 2, Winnie H.; 3, Oliver Kidd.
Free-for-all trot or pace—1, Dan J.; 2, Oliver Kidd; 3, Laine.

Indian pony race—first event— Cree, 1; Mail Man, 2; C. Kettle, 3.
Second event— Red Feather, 1; Yellow Tent, 2; Pretty Bear, 3.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

Vaulting with pole—Purse divided between Sepmour and A. Bird.
Standing jump—1, Travis; 2, A. Bird.

Running high jump—1, A. Bird; 2, W. Cathcart.
Running long jump—1, A. Bird; 2, W. Davidson.

300 yard dash—1, W. Davidson; 2, R. Tate.

AT FORT QU'APPELLE.

The Dominion Day sports at Fort Qu'Appelle were quite a success, the attendance being good and the races well contested. Regina won polo match. Through the apparent apathy of our correspondent, the list of events and results have not come to hand.

Queen City Exhibition Notes.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

REGINA, July 2.—The governor of Michigan, the Hon. John T. Rich, has signified his intention of being present at the Territorial Exhibition.

Lady Aberdeen will accompany His Excellency the Governor-General on his visit to the Territorial Capital.

Lieut-Governor Mackintosh is working indefatigably. Despite the fact that scores of letters, contracts and telegrams are coming in, and building inspection as well as preparations for housing and feeding thousands, lighting the grounds and other arrangements necessary, he appears to be able to stand the strain, although being in his office from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. The office business is being transacted with the aid of his official secretary, Mr. Gordon, the superintendent of exhibits, Mr. Strachan of Winnipeg, a stenographer and typewriter, Mr. Rindout, formerly secretary of the Barnardo farm at Russell, Man., and clerk of correspondence, Mr. H. B. Mackintosh. During the next three weeks, however, the staff will probably have to be increased.

A letter received yesterday states that six delegates from Kansas will attend the exhibition to report upon the products displayed by various districts. This, and other letters of the kind, have been forwarded to the C. P. R. Land department and to Ottawa.

The express companies have agreed to carry articles to the exhibition at one fare both ways. That is, the regular rates will be charged to Regina, and articles returned to original point of shipment free, upon certificate from secretary.

The new speeding track at the Exhibition park is now complete, and the best horsemen in the country express the opinion that it will be the fastest half-mile track in Canada.

The entries for the exhibition are coming in in hundreds. It is thought it will be necessary to enlarge the main building.

Two fine wind-mills with steel towers are about to be erected in the exhibition grounds.

Edgeley Echoes.

(From an Ottawa Correspondent.)

EDGELEY, July 1.—We have been informed that one of our back-boys has retired from farm service for a few days' vacation in the southern climate, stating: "As the settlers have diminished along the Souris river, it is reported 'cheer' are to be seen, which can easily be trapped from a hidden cave, but as the close season is in force we hope our sport will not go to extremes."

It is reported we are to have a cheese factory built in our midst this summer. Times are looking up in Edgeley.

The fine rains we have had lately have caused the crops to grow very rapidly. We hope to reap a bountiful harvest.

Our Edgeley Football club played a match at Fort Qu'Appelle to-day against Springbrook and were victorious.

Correction.

We have been requested to draw attention to a typographical error in section I, class 75, of the Territorial Exhibition prize list. The section reads, "25 bushels of red fife wheat," it should read "20 bushels."

Catarrh Relieved in 10 to 60 Minutes

One short puff of the nostril from the Blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Ainsworth's Catarrh Powder, effects the removal of the mucus passages. Pain relieved, and the system purified and permanently cured. Catarrh, Hay Fever, Cough, Influenza, Sore Throat, Bronchitis and Deafness, 60 cents. At C. E. Carthew's.
